

Contractors

Did you know...

HM Revenue and Customs have received a massive injection of funds to police tax avoidance and have stated that schemes that claim to be protected by Barrister's opinions are more likely to be investigated. Read more....

By choosing the wrong service provider or accountant for helping with your limited company you could be exposed to the Managed Service Company (MSC) legislation and have to pay 45% more tax. Read more....

Utilising an offshore umbrella service can be classed as a tax avoidance scheme. Failure of a contractor to report such a scheme can result in a £5000 fine and £600 per day thereafter. Read more....

Structures offering self-employed schemes are at high risk of investigation and are likely to be within the definition of MSC legislation. Read More....

London 1st has been independently audited as a safe and compliant provider under the MSC legislation.

Don't leave it to chance – talk to us about how our compliant and professional services can benefit you. See our free contractor tax consultation for clear, impartial and professional advice about the safest and most tax efficient structure to suit your specific situation.